

Employer attractiveness (GRI 401)

AURELIUS has observed that the demands placed on employers, especially by young professionals, are changing and that topics such as work-life balance, flexible working and job satisfaction are becoming increasingly important.

This makes it all the more important for the company to position itself as an attractive employer that anticipates and addresses these demands. Against the background of the shortage of skilled workers, this orientation can be a decisive factor in the competition for qualified employees.

Through various measures, AURELIUS ensures a good work-life balance, including flexible working time models and mobile working. In addition, employees are offered an open corporate culture geared towards teamwork.

In shaping the working environment, we are guided by the core labour standards of the International Labour Organisation (ILO) and the principles of the UN Global Compact. For AURELIUS these are minimum standards, which the company clearly exceeds.